Vacancy details

I am currently looking for a consultant based in Georgia to provide local business services such as financial analysis, market research and assessments. My client is providing global advisory on financial and business development internationally. The candidate will be responsible for the market penetration, business consultation and financial relations with potential clients. The person will be expected to build and develop strong relations with customers both locally and internationally, and become the go-to resource and primary point of contact.

The ideal candidate should be based in Georgia, a results oriented professional with vast experience in financial affairs, payment services, regulations and strong understanding of crypto currencies (blockchain transactions).

The candidate MUST comply with the following:

- o English proficiency both verbal and written
- o Deep understanding of financial systems and payment service providers
- o Extensive experience in dealing with different monetary transactions
- o Strong understanding and experience of crypto currencies, blockchain transactions and foreign exchange
- o Experience in Georgian Financial and Business Regulations
- o Strong verbal and written communication skills
- o Enthusiastic, highly motivated 'team player' with the ability to work independently
- o Excellent interpersonal skills combined with strategic thinking
- o Goal driven and self-motivated
- o Ability to build positive relationships and influence
- o Proactive and can-do attitude with prompt follow-through
- o Resourcefulness, with attention to detail

*Business owners and self-employed candidates are considered with advantage

My client is offering flexible and autonomous work (both full-time and part-time), competitive pay and travel opportunities. If you consider yourself a suitable candidate, just send me your CV.
