Vacancy details

I am writing to you from the International Institute of Louisville, a company dedicated to cross cultural communication and language services.

We are looking for interpreters for a project in both Germany and Georgia from October 1, 2015 until March 29, 2016 will an optional additional nine months. The interpreter must display fluent spoken and written English and Georgian, covering a wide range of terminology in many fields, as well as knowledge of government, history, and cultural of the United States and of the cultural differences between the languages. It is also preferable that the interpreters know military, medical, government, and political terminology.

If you feel you would qualify for this position, could you please send a copy of your resume and references? Also when are you available for an interview via Skype?

Thank you and hope to hear from you
